

Season 2 Episode 6

Newborn in the Ultraverse

In a sundrenched courtroom in the Ultraverse, a judge takes the bar as people gather in the courthouse. The judge reads from a scroll of paper and he said, "We are here for the trial of the alleged crimes of Tammy Newborn against his universe. The plaintiff and defendants may take their places." Tammy Newborn is placed in front of the judge. The judge said, "Is it true, Mr. Newborn that you wiped out half of the population of your universe using a golden glove?" Tammy said, "I did not. I never killed anyone." The judge said, "Do the witnesses have anything to say about this?" Annie, Jake, Isaac, and Wayon are in one corner of the courtroom. Jake said, "He's lying through his teeth. He had the Glove of Eternity. He made my friend Annie here turn to dust." The judge said, "If your friend Annie got turned into dust, then how is she standing beside you then?" Jake said, "I went on a quest with Justice Knight and I managed to steal the glove from Tammy and I undid everything he did." The judge said, "Is that so? It looks like if everything was undone then there is no point in punishing Tammy for anything. No one ever gets fined or charged for simple trivial things that could easily be undone." Annie said, "You don't understand. Tammy is dangerous. He is a clone of Jake. He would do anything to murder Jake or murder anyone that doesn't agree on his opinion on the anime dubbing company, 4ldiots. He kidnapped Jake's girlfriend once and tried to drown her in a red juice. Isaac and Wayon were brought into this too." The judge looks at Isaac and Wayon and he said, "Is this true?" Wayon shrugs his arms and Isaac said, "I don't really know or care. I just came here so I can say I visited the Ultraverse and get some free food." Annie said, "Isaac always does stuff like this, but you must take our word for this. Tammy Newborn is a threat to our universe and if you let him out into the Ultraverse, he could become a catastrophic catastrophe to the Ultraverse." The judge said, "You can't prove that." The judge looks over a scroll and he said, "It looks here that Tammy was born in a lab somewhere and was raised like an animal. He is no animal. He deserves the same rights and freedoms that humans deserve as per the law of the Ultraverse. I understand that your universe breaks this rule all the time. I feel sorry for anyone born in your universe. Tammy Newborn is free from any charges and he is now free to live and work in the Ultraverse. Case closed." Annie and Jake's eyes go big as they look at each other and Isaac and Wayon give devilish smiles.

A mad scientist is in his lab where sparks fly around a cauldron with a blue liquid being cooked under a blue flame. The mad scientist uses a computer that is connected to the cauldron to add substances to the contents of the cauldron. The mad scientist said, "This is the invention that is going to rule the mass production industry in all the universes of the Ultraverse. Why pay someone a small fortune to build things when a simple substance could produce the exact same thing but better? I can mass produce any product known in the Ultraverse and sell it for a cheaper price and in time, I will be the richest man in the Ultraverse. This substance has a conscious mind that connects the mind of a host so it knows what the host wants and it creates what the host desires. Let's see how this goes."

The cauldron is tilted over and the blue liquid is formed into a goo. The goo forms into a small rectangular prism with rounded edges and arms and legs. It also forms two eyes that are black vertical lines. The mad scientist stands over the short and stumpy goo entity. The mad scientist said, "Now for my first request, you are going to build me an efficient transport system so I can travel the Ultraverse and find people to market my new products to." The mad scientist joins hands with the blue goo creature and flashes of images of the mad scientist through the years flash through the mind of the blue creature. The blue creature gets visions of the mad scientist building products that brainwash people into buying more of his products. The blue creature gets visions of the mad scientist dominating the market with fake products and earning a lot but then having to go to court where he gets sued and loses everything. The blue creature gets visions of the mad scientist using the blue creature to build toys, equipment, technology, and household appliances that will cause him to dominate all the markets in the Ultraverse. The blue creature sees people walking around the streets of the Ultraverse and mindlessly buying this mad scientist's products and they all become his slaves. The blue creature grows into a large and muscular figure and he smacks the mad scientist sending him flying into the wall on the other side of the lab. The blue creature forms back into its normal self and runs away and finds a small window where the ceiling meets the wall and the blue creature jumps out the window.

Tammy Newborn is walking down a dark and gloomy street in the Ultraverse. Tammy said, "How am I going to make a living in this Ultraverse? There is no one here that knows anything about 4Idiots Entertainment. I don't think there are any haters of it in this universe either. My only purpose is to indoctrinate people into liking 4Idiots and punishing people that say it sucks. I only wish there were a way to bring 4Idiots to the Ultraverse and..." Tammy walks into the running blue creature and the blue creature gets his arms on Tammy and images of Tammy's history flow through the blue creature's mind. The blue creature sees Tammy being raised in a laboratory where he is zapped by doctors. He sees Tammy meeting Annie at university lab and he gets zapped by one of the lead professors. He sees Tammy watching 4Idiots anime shows and bad kids telling Tammy that 4Idiots sucks. The blue creature gets visions of Tammy ruling the world with the Glove of Eternity only for Jake to take it away from him. The blue creature stops right there in front of Tammy and he gives Tammy a joyful look.

Tammy gives a stern look to the creature and he said, "What the hell are you? What do you think you are? It is not like you actually care about 4Idiots." The creature gives a nice look to Tammy. Tammy said, "You know about 4Idiots?" The creature shakes his head yes. Tammy said, "Do you think 4Idiots is the greatest thing that could possibly exist?" The creature shakes his head yes. Tammy said, "Can you help me bring the teachings of 4Idiots Entertainment to the Ultraverse?" The creature begins to form globs of blue goo in front of it. The goo globs form into a large parade float with a large screen that shows clips from 4Idiots anime. Tammy said, "This is exactly what I wanted."

Ivan, Safron, and Dirk are walking down a major street in the Ultraverse. They see the large float with the large screen showing 4Idiots anime clips drives down the street and it is being guarded by samurai. Tammy stands at the front of the float with a megaphone. Ivan, Safron, and Dirk are staring at the float. Safron said, "I didn't know there was going to be a parade in the city." Dirk looks past the float and he said, "If this is a parade, then where are the other floats?" Ivan said, "Something is up." Ivan draws out his sword as he eyes Tammy. Tammy wields the megaphone to his mouth and he said, "Greetings people of the Ultraverse. I am aware that none of you have ever been blessed with the awesome anime dubs and edits of 4Idiots Entertainment. 4Idiots Entertainment has been correcting Japanese anime and has been making it better for us normal people. On this screen, you will see the glory that is 4Idiots." The screen shows footage of comparisons between the original Japanese version and the 4Idiots' edits. The first screen shows a rice ball in an anime being replaced by a sub sandwich in the 4Idiots edit. Another scene is shown where Japanese text is replaced with English text. Tammy said, "4Idiots makes every anime better."

Dirk raises a fist to Tammy and he said, "Screw you. All 4Idiots ever did was replace Japanese voice actors with annoying American voice actors. They sucked all the charm out of the Japanese originals." Tammy gives an evil look to Dirk and he said, "What did you just say?" Dirk said, "4Idiots sucks and you suck even more for building all this." Tammy snaps his fingers and his samurai guards show up and they head for Dirk. Safron said, "I get why you may like 4Idiots so much but what is the point of all this?" Tammy said, "To educate all of you about why 4Idiots is better than anything else." Safron said, "I am sure there are a lot of things in the Ultraverse that are way better than 4Idiots." Tammy said, "You just signed your own death warrant." Ivan said, "You're pathetic. I never cared for 4Idiots. Most of the people on this street don't give a crap about 4Idiots which is why they are walking away now." Tammy's head explodes from the top and his head is completely red. Tammy said, "That does it." Tammy sends the blue creature to build a large wall around the Ultraverse city center and TVs are placed all along the walls showing nothing but 4Idiots anime. Tammy's samurai guards begin to attack Ivan, Safron, and Dirk.

Dirk jumps over the samurai guards and he kicks down two of them in the face and he uses a can of silly string to string down one of them. Safron smacks one of the samurai with her skateboard. Ivan duels two of the samurai guards with his sword versus their traditional samurai swords. The blue creature morphs into a much larger figure with six arms and each arm has a sword. The creature swings the swords around and Ivan and Safron block the sword attacks. Two of the knocked down samurai get up and capture Safron. A yin-yang forms around Ivan and it blinks away. Ivan said, "I should be transforming into my yin-yang mech self but for some reason I can't." Dirk jumps and kicks the creature in the head and its head gets warped. Ivan cuts off one half of the creatures arms and Dirk uses his string to tie up the remaining arms. Dirk places his foot on the blue creature's head. Tammy sneaks behind Ivan and Dirk and Tammy said, "You didn't count on me, did you?" They turn around and they see Tammy dressed in a hard metal samurai battle suit. Tammy has iron fists and he grabs onto Ivan and Dirk and he piles them in his float with Safron.

Ivan, Safron, and Dirk are trapped in a small cab that is guarded by samurai and the blue creature. Tammy drives the float to a dock where a floatation device is formed underneath the float. The float drives on the water and it heads to a mountainous island. Tammy said, "Welcome to 4Idiots Island. This is the official indoctrination station for non-4Idiots worshippers." The ship docks at a port and the samurai grab onto the arms of the monks and they are led through a hall to the foyer of a museum. Ivan said, "Where are we? This place looks like a museum of some sort." Tammy said, "Right you are. We are in the 4Idiots museum. Everything you need to know is located in this museum." The samurai push the three monks to an exhibit showcasing a screen that has side by side the original visual effects mixed with the 4Idiots version of the effects. Tammy said, "You see, 4Idiots not only provides dubbing services but they also provide visual improvements. The original Japanese version looks grainy and unrealistic which would make it challenging for anyone to seriously get invested in the anime but the 4Idiots version makes the anime look very lifelike and intriguing." Safron and Dirk watch the special effects in awe while Ivan shrugs them off. Ivan said, "Special effects don't make a show good. It is the writing and the storyline that makes it entertaining." Safron said, "Ivan is right. What is the point of this?" Tammy said, "Let's go to the next exhibit."

They are brought to the next exhibit which showcases Japanese scripts versus the 4Idiots scripts. Tammy said, "The Japanese scripts always resort to redundant dialogue and cheesy writing that gives the anime a much slower pace which discourages the viewer from wanting to continue watching before the show actually gets into what it is supposed to be. The 4Idiots script cuts right to the action. Watch." A screen is activated showing the slow and boring Japanese version on one half and the American version that begins with action. Safron and Dirk stare at the screen while they listen to dialogue of story that is going on while an action scene plays out involving robot mechs battling each other in a realistic and richly detailed city street. Safron and Dirk's eyes begin to close as if they are getting hypnotized. Ivan stands in front of Safron and Dirk and he said, "Don't you get what he is doing to us? He is trying to make us bend to his whims." Tammy said, "Would I really have you bend to my whims after you see what I have next?" The samurai force the monks into a large gallery filled with screens showing all the best action scenes from 4Idiots anime. Safron and Dirk's eyes start to turn to static and they get engulfed in the anime. Ivan stands on the sideline and Tammy said, "Don't you want to enjoy this fine quality entertainment I have for you?" Ivan said, "This is not quality entertainment. You just brainwashed my friends into thinking that your 4Idiots anime is good. I think you are doing the same thing to those people in the Ultraverse city center." Ivan kicks one of the TV's and Ivan's foot grows big and swollen. Ivan tries punching one of the screen's and it does nothing but make his fists big and red. Samurai guards crowd around Ivan.

A yin-yang is formed around Ivan but the blue creature walks in front of Ivan and the yin-yang blinks away. Tammy said, "I think it is time we show you the real 4Idiots experience." The blue creature and the samurai grab onto Ivan's arms and a hidden door on the wall opens and Ivan is thrown in the black room. Ivan said, "What is this place?" Tammy appears next to Ivan and Tammy said, "This is where the real 4Idiots anime action happens." Ghost images of anime villains appear and they fly around Ivan. One of them grabs onto Ivan and tries to suck out his soul. Ivan punches the ghost and it disappears into nothing. Ivan appears dressed in a martial arts uniform and he appears in a battle stadium outside in broad daylight. A green muscular alien stands in front of Ivan and he said, "You're going down, yin-yang boy." People are in the stadium seats and they hold up signs with photos of the green muscular alien. Tammy is in a box high above the stadium and he said, "Let's watch the Ultra Richilo fight the wimpy yin-yang boy."

Ultra Richilo jumps high and aims his hands at Ivan and does gestures with them. He sends energy waves at Ivan. Ivan jumps out of the way and dodges the energy waves. Ultra Richilo runs for Ivan. Ivan runs away from Richilo. Safron and Dirk have their eyes glued to one of the screens and they watch Ivan fight against Ultra Richilo. One of the people in the crowd looks like an anime version of Safron and she said, "Use your magic powers." Ivan said, "My yin-yang instincts are useless in this world and I think it has something to do with that blue creature." The anime Safron said, "Use your powers. You are a Super Tyan God. Use your hands." Ultra Richilo runs behind Ivan and Ivan turns around and does a gesture with his hands and a shockwave is generated from them. It sends Ultra Richilo flying to the other end of the stadium and crashes into the crowd. Ultra Richilo jumps up and he dashes to Ivan. Ivan kicks Ultra Richilo in the face. Ultra Richilo smacks Ivan in the face and he knees Ivan in the gut. Ivan falls to the ground. The anime Safron said, "Use your super mega ultra-Tyan mode." Ivan gets up and he begins to glow red. Energy emanates everywhere around

Ivan. Ivan smacks Ultra Richilo with his face getting warped and with small traces of blood coming off his face. Ivan jumps and he pounds his magical fists on Ultra Richilo and he melts into a goo. Richilo said, "You... killed me..."

Ivan appears in a blue vest and a red and white baseball hat and he has a few blue and white spheres in his hand. He appears to be in a battlefield standing across from some anime kids. The kids throw their spheres and they form into mystical monsters that run for Ivan. One of them is a red dragon and the other is a turtle with sharp spikes and it rolls to Ivan. Ivan grabs his spheres and he throws them in front of him and they turn into useless plant based monsters. The fire breathing dragon uses his fire breath to fry the plants. The mystical monsters chase after Ivan. The giant dragon runs for Ivan with the turtle at his side. The dragon lifts his large foot and he is about to step on Ivan with it. Ivan grabs the turtle and he holds it up to his face and the dragon steps on the spikey turtle. The dragon yells in pain and it falls over with the turtle stuck in his foot.

Ivan appears as an overly tall girl wearing a short skirt and a shirt that covers his breasts. Ivan appears in a factory where gears are grinding. A villain with a mask and a tall hat looks down from a ledge and he said, "Sailor Loon. I was wondering when you would find my factory." Ivan jumps high to the ledge. The villain takes out a rapier and he swings it at Ivan. Ivan rolls past the villain and he spots a magical looking machine encased in a glass capsule that has energy flowing inside of it. The masked villain jumps to Ivan. Ivan grabs onto the villain and he throws him into the capsule smashing it and causing a large explosion. Ivan returns to normal and he is still in the factory with moving gears.

Safron and Dirk watch Ivan throw the villain into the capsule and it smashes and the screens go blank. Dirk said, "Was that Ivan?" Safron said, "Of course it was Ivan." Safron and Dirk turn around and they find the secret door in the wall that is still open.

Tammy and the blue creature stand around Ivan. Tammy said, "Now you see what 4Idiots is all about. You must admit, this is the most entertainment you have had since you came to the Ultraverse." Ivan said, "How do you know about my past?" Tammy said, "I know everything. There is no information that I do not know about. I also know that you are still useless as my pet here renders that yin-yang crap you go by, inoperative." The blue creature forms into a large monster and grabs onto Ivan. Tammy said, "You can end this all by admitting that 4Idiots is the greatest thing that could possibly exist." Ivan said, "I will never do that." Tammy said, "So be it then." Safron and Dirk barge into the factory with gears. Dirk jumps holding Safron and they land on the ledge. Dirk uses a can of silly string and he yanks Ivan out of the creature's grasp. Safron said, "4Idiots is not the greatest thing ever. Ivan is the greatest thing ever and you are just too wimpy to admit it." The blue monster uses his thick arms to grab onto Safron and Dirk. He begins to crush them. Tammy takes out an anime katana sword and he said, "This ends now." Tammy swings it at Ivan. Ivan dodges the swings of the sword. Ivan jumps off the ledge and he lands on a catwalk above grinding gears and working machinery. Tammy jumps down to Ivan. Tammy goes at Ivan and Ivan grabs onto both of Tammy's fists. Tammy breaks free of Ivan's grip and he slashes Ivan in the face and Ivan is sent flying backwards by a bit. Dirk spots Tammy with his sword about to slash down Ivan on the narrow catwalk. Dirk gets one of his arms free and it has the silly string canister in it. Dirk sprays it at the sword and he yanks it out of Tammy's grip and he jerks it towards Ivan. Ivan gets the sword.

Ivan aims the sword at Tammy. Ivan said, "The tables have turned and your fate is sealed." Tammy said, "The joke is on you because I have another sword just like it." Tammy pulls another sword just like the one Ivan has from up his sleeve. Ivan and Tammy duel on the catwalk. Ivan and Tammy clang sword blades together. Tammy swings his sword downwards at Ivan and Ivan blocks the sword swing. Tammy tries to cut Ivan from the side and Ivan jumps out of the way and Tammy misses and he cuts part of the catwalk. The catwalk begins to break downwards slightly from Tammy cutting it. Ivan cuts the catwalk completely and Ivan grabs onto the railing while Tammy grabs onto Ivan. Ivan struggles to maintain a grip on the railing and Tammy takes out his sword and he slashes the railing above Ivan. The railing breaks and Ivan and Tammy are sent plummeting down into the gears and machinery. Ivan misses some grinding gears by a thin margin and Tammy falls into the grinding gears. Tammy is grinded up and is sent into more machinery. Ivan keeps falling.

The blue creature has a tight grip on Safron and Dirk and he gets visions of Tammy being in serious pain from being grinded by gears. The blue creature's arms get weak and his body descends into nothing but a puddle of blue goo. Safron and Dirk are freed. Dirk grabs onto Safron and he jumps down into the gears and machinery. Dirk falls and he uses his silly string to zip to where Ivan is. Dirk gets close to Ivan and Safron reaches out and grabs him. Safron said, "I got him. Let's get out of here." Dirk zips upwards. Dirk jumps back onto the main platform in the factory. The blue monster feels more of Tammy's pain and the entire 4Idiots complex Tammy made begins to melt and collapse into blue liquids. The entire island explodes into a blue liquid and Ivan, Safron, and Dirk are sent into the sea. The three monks grip onto Safron's skateboard as it floats on the water. Safron said, "Skaters in the Ultraverse can end up in all kinds of different perils and some of them may involve getting sent into the sea. That's why Ultraverse skateboards float." The three of them send the skateboard with them on it for the Ultraverse mainland. The entrapment in the Ultraverse city center with TVs showing 4Idiots anime melt into blue goo. The Ultraverse people shrug this off and go back to what they were doing before.

The blue creature sucks up his remains and he forms back into a weak version of himself. He finds Tammy's mangled body and he repairs it with his goo and he turns Tammy into a cybernetic cyborg. Tammy looks like a silver samurai with robotic parts clearly visible. Tammy also has red eyes and Ivan appears in them.
